Jizzy Pearl comes to the UK in March on what might be the final outing for Love/Hate with Jizzy on vocals. The tour includes a date in the Diamond Rock Club, Ahoghill on 7th March. A new album entitled "Crucified" is released on 13th January. Initially planned as a Love/Hate release it is now being promoted as a Jizzy Pearl album following some threats of legal action by former Love/Hate members. Jizzy has also just been revealed as the new lead singer of Quiet Riot who are working on a new album.

Jizzy was good enough to answer a few questions for us over the Christmas / New Year holidays.

NI ROCKS – Thanks for taking some time to answer a few questions for Rock Radio NI. You're coming back to Northern Ireland in March to play the Diamond Rock Club and I wanted to talk first about that tour and the new release "Crucified".

You've said that the tour will be the last by Jizzy Pearl's Love/Late. I appreciate that you've released a statement about this, but for the benefit of any fans that may not have seen it, can you explain what has prompted you to make that decision?

JIZZY --2 reasons. First there is an ex-member that I choose not to deal with anymore and second I just joined Quiet Riot so I'll be busy for most of the new year.

NI ROCKS - The new release 'Crucified' has been re-mastered as a 2 disc (also available as a 1 disc) and is available on the Rock Radio NI website. It's a great album that you just want to replay as soon as it's finished. Can you tell us a little about the recording of the album - who was involved and where it was recorded?
